THIS and the following issue of the Argo has been necessarily delayed by the lack of co-operation on the part of our photographer. Those Junior and Senior pictures which were taken at the first of January reached us about the last of May, thus delaying the production of the book about three months. We trust that, late as the book is, it will please you.

- This issue employs, on the whole, a better set of layouts, and more radical departure from the treatment of some of the old-style sections.

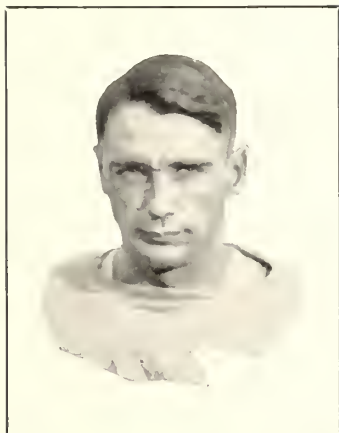

- The next issue---which will reach you at or about the same time you receive this---will contain a resume of the activities for the year, the Senior Class pictures, and the spring events---sports, May Day and Commencement.

- This Loggia entrance to "Old Main Memorial" forms in a sense, the symbol of a man's dream. It was through the efforts of former President Wallace that the graceful gothic building materialized.

• The Stars played Pitt on January, 22, 1936. The game was a hot, well played one with West Hunter unfortunately coming out on rather the short end of the score. In this picture we have Hunter (Captain of the Pitt team, second team chosen by Pittsburgh sports writers) and the one of the Pitt team, Bullock, trying to keep the Pitt from scoring.

BASKET- BALL

LAWTHER gloomy over prospects---must re-build great machine---toughest schedule ever ---but---"WESTMINSTER TITANS MAINTAIN RECORD"---last headline of the season tells best---how we fared in our major sport---with 20 won to 6 lost---mythical conference title goes to the Titans without even a close challenger---

• Wes Bennett, Akron, A. American contribution to Westminster basketball will go down as one of the Titan's best. In less than four years of play he scored over 1,100 points, was picked on the All-District team for three years and was chosen as the finest player to appear in Madison Square Garden, New York, during the 1934-35 season.

• At the close of this last season Bennett was placed on an all-time team selected by Coach John Lawther. Wes was one of the best shots ever to wear the Blue and White and he had a useful adaptability to any position on the team. After the Westminster season was finished this year he played on the Wilmerding Y.M.C.A. team which went to the quarter finals in the Olympic trials in New York.

• Towering Titans---12---out of 15 stand over 6 feet---New traveling suits---and 3,100 miles to wear them out in---quite a rangy squad---so: Wes Bennett---senior center from Akron, Ohio---nation's leading scorer for three years---over 1,000 points for college career---brilliant---"Swede" Hunneke---senior guard, Freeport, L. I.---left-hander of the ball to mates---great---John Willets---senior forward, Ford City, Pa.---peculiar shots from head position---fast---John Krivosh---soph guard, Sharon, Pa.---heavyweight, stolid---Paul Backus---Youngstown sophomore---consistent---Andy Demo---Johnstown soph---fiery forward---Wendell Stevenson---blond center from Farrell---hopeful---Mike Pawk---Butler independent team player---Ray Bellingham---6 foot 7 inches of Wesleyville---Dave Rowlands---Pittsburgh junior up from intra murals---"Susie" Gilliland---New Wilmington soph---coming---Rauer Meyer---Lowellville champ---Ken Grubb---transfer from Ohio State, guard---Bob Arrowsmith---Erie athlete, versatile---Dave Mintz---Butler Man---Richard Juline---Warren.

• Wooster served as test material---no scare---for a fresh squad---feeling its way into a slap by Carnegie Tech (their greatest year)---unwonted publicity, and Backus returns-- We trample the Goodyear Independents---Then eastward to play before---4,500, seeing their first double-header in Philadelphia---poor Villa Nova---but---poor Westminster before 18,000 in Madison Square Garden---St. Johns did it---Willits spectacular---John Marshall takes us --what a tussle, too---We 'breezed in' at West Chester---with the reserves unreserved---And look---Sweeney's old fire in his new team, Youngstown---but not hot enough---Glenville and the reserves had it out---favorably---Geneva embellished our campus with their colors---but---we shellacked them---Rockets-Truman-Slippery Rock --- all swamped --- It was torrid at Waynesburg---close, at times---The Bison at Bethany weren't strong enough---Pitt and Bennett were both great---can't we beat that school?---Krivosh's field day at Youngstown---

• Willits, Senior, and Krivosh and Backus, Sophomores, were three of the "Big guns" in our team this last year.

• Here is another shot of the Pitt game. Willits is the player farthest to the left while Hunneke and Krivosh are waiting to receive the ball as it comes from the back-board.

• The cover for the athletic sections of this Ape has been written by Walter Rudolph Junior.

• Above: A crowd of fans and players leaving the gym after the game.
 In the lower outside corner: A couple of the boys stretch for the ball.

• Above: The game always ends and the crowd always leaves. In the lower outside corner: A couple of the boys stretch for the ball.

Wes was at home in all ways---when we visited the Goodyears at Akron---Bethany tried hard this time---And sweet was the fruit---of our Tech triumph---the gym was noisy--- George Washington and St. Thomas---were good too---the 14th straight for G. W.---while---St. Thomas did it in the last 30 seconds---from mid-floor---winning by a small nose
 ---We were wild against Glenville---in a pleasing way--- Fairmount produced a record crowd---to see---Towering Titans act the bully---Second half rally in the show at West Virginia Wesleyan---Geneva still very tired---Give Demo the Waynesburg fray---he mustered 22 points---The entire squad took---a shower---after Slippery Rock went home--- and we say---luck by the bushel (basket)---to Bennett--- Arrowsmith---Hunneke---Willits!

Basketball Schedule: December 7, Westminster 44-Wooster 16; December 10, Westminster 49-Akron Goodyear 20; December 12, Westminster 30-Carnegie Tech 37; December 16, Westminster 31-Villa Nova 25; December 18, Westminster 26-St. Johns 35; December 20, Westminster 23-John Marshall 26; December 21, Westminster 43-West Chester 24; January 4, Westminster 43-Youngstown 24; January 7, Westminster 53-Glenville 28; January 9, Westminster 35-Geneva 16; January 11, Westminster 47-Slippery Rock 22; January 17, Westminster 50-Waynesburg 39; January 18, Westminster 41-Bethany 21; January 22, Westminster 31-Pitt 42; January 31, Westminster 45-Youngstown 19; February 1, Westminster 41-Goodyears 28; February 6, Westminster 54-Bethany 30; February 8, Westminster 46-Carnegie Tech 21; February 17, Westminster 25-George Washington 33; February 18, Westminster 30-St. Thomas 31; February 22, Westminster 56-Glenville 37; February 24, Westminster 45-W. Va. Wesleyan 34; February 25, Westminster 61-Fairmount 28; February 29, Westminster 35-Geneva 22; March 4, Westminster 47-Waynesburg 29; March 7, Westminster 39-Slippery Rock 17.

• Upper corner: Andy Demo, a surprising young sophomore star. Below left: Henry Hunneke, senior, who has been an important and appreciated guard for three seasons. Below to right: The boys attempt to block a Carnegie Tech basket.

The JUNIORS

THE JUNIOR class, too mature to be as giddy as the Freshmen, too intelligent to feel as superior as the Sophomores, and too sensible to be as sophisticated as the Seniors---the perfect class---ahem. We were guided through the year by our president, Al Smith, Vice-President George Mitchell, Secretary Sunny Porter, and Treasurer Graham Carter. Early in the year, McCrea Hazlett and his staff began work on the Junior project--the Argo. We hope you like it. To Beverly Blythe was accorded the great honor of being elected May Queen by the entire student body. Then came the Prom---the best of music, lovely decorations, a fine crowd, and a grand time. A glorious finish to our Junior year.

JUNIORIANA

LIBBY CONE----who has no interests in life----aside from her advertising managership of the Argo----her assistantship in the Physed department----her work on the Holcad----her swimming----her tennis----her classes----and a good part of the rest of the world----has construed her misguided talents to tear off these impressions of you, and you, and you.

● Earl Johnson-----erstwhile composer-----and pianist par excellence-----accompanies "the trio"-----and promotes a campus orchestra upon request-----turns out original songs----and musical chapel announcements.

● A very small package---Peggy Eversole-----with lots of good things to her credit----Y.W.C.A., Y.P.C.U.-----Target----Browie Hall proctor---a wee little girl----with big brown eyes--and a ready smile.

● David "Ickle" "Man Mountain" Mintz----ape man of the football varsity----Hulme's assistant-----and general of the gym---lived through a season of intramural refereeing---to return to Butler this summer--to "shine 'em up."

● Kay Wagner-----outstanding Mermaid member---with a flare for novelty dives--and committee memberships-----Mock Convention stenographer---chapel roll taker--good dancer-----whose grass skirt presentation is much in demand.

● LeMonte-----perennial Holcad Editor stars in Little Theatre plays-----delights in insulting the student body and the faculty through his "family journal"-----and in puttering about the "dark room"-----busiest man on campus-----never known to bite a dog for news-----only students.

● Camera!-----Action!-----and sometimes you find Mitchell at hand-----snapping campus stars at play-----has ring-side seats for all school functions-----even the Mermaid show (to which no male can gain entrance)-----The way he acts you'd think he was Argo Photographic Editor-----his Little Theatre impersonations-----range from crickets to Shakespeare.

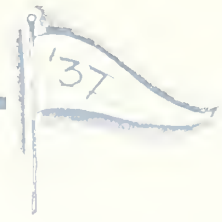

● Ray Elliott-----intramural sports scrapper-----and T.U.O. Prexie-----survived the latest Johnstown flood-----to play varsity tennis.

● Samuel Q. Gaston-----campus character-----and general man-about-college-----breezes in from New Castle daily-----in a gray condition with red wheels-----holy terror when driving-----but a gentleman and a scholar-----who will even grow a moustache on request-----from the right person.

● Maxwell-----of "Asleep in the Deep" fame---regular inhabitant of the conservatory-----member of the varsity tennis team-----and basso profundo-----of the quartette-----choruses-----and shower rooms.

● "Dickie"----the one and only-----student and squirrel-----dragger down of straight threes---and keeper in hysterics of all two-footed beings-----plays a mean game of tennis-----writes a mean thesis -----rides about with the "Fake"-----and believes in the status quo.

- When a soft-voiced little south-paw----- wraps four fingers and one thumb around a tennis racquet-----and connects thereafter with a tennis ball-----its "Advantage, Mr.
Greer"-----an intramural basketball scrapper-----and a good student-----who always knows the score.

- The man who made Westminster "Solitude-conscious"-----by his requested renditions-----with visiting bands-----spends a week each year-----teaching his fraternity brothers to warble-----only person in school
-----who can out-crack the chapel wits----- and keep them singing-----and liking it.

- Unperturable-----efficient-----"Metz" goes about literary editing the Argo----- heading W.A.A.-----selling Y.W. candy -----being on committees-----and refusing to become excited over anything less----- than an issue of the Argo.

- Ladies and Gentlemen!-----step this way!-----one dime, ten cents to see the campus wonder-----he walks, he talks, he's almost human-----for a slight remuneration he will swallow absolutely anything-----think of it, anything!-----acquisitions to date include-----three snakes-----one frog----- two fish-----the Kap House-----and the library building-----here you waw, here you waw, presenting Spensaw Davis.

- Mock Republican Convention-----brought Graham Carter (and Herbert Hoover) to the front-----red-headed and level-ditto

-----he (Carter not Hoover) ran a successful Convention-----and that was some job
-----sleeps in chapel-----but pounds a mean gavel.

- Libby Charles-----smiling May Queen Attendant-----and Beechwood Lodge Hostess-----Delta Nabla Member-----who tum-bles-----Mermaids-----and giggles!

- Committee-man-at-large-----Delt Prexie
-----and classy dresser-----a psych class declared him color blind-----Brown's the name-----lives at Orange, New Jersey-----

BEAUTIES

HERE WE have once again the inevitable Argo beauties. In choosing these Queens we deviated slightly from the usual procedure. We asked the Pan-Hellenic Council and the Inter-Fraternity Council each to submit a list of twelve names. Naturally there were some duplications, but when both lists were compiled we had eighteen girls who those groups felt met the standard of Westminster beauty. The members of the Argo staff then balloted individually on this selected list, and as a result we have the beauty queens:

- Lou Nevin----Senior beauty---gracious head of Target---and retiring leader of W.A.A.---sports-woman and student---who can be seen rushing to committee meetings---or Ford Couping it with a political ally.
- Grace Bell---Exhibit A of the Junior Class---who commutes in from New Castle---friendly---reserved---with a knack of wearing the clothes of the hour---topped by a coiffure that is always perfect---or nearly.
- "After all is said and 'Dunn,' there is really only one; Oh Margy, Margy, it's you!"---so writes the songster---and so writes the Argoist---extolling the charm of the Sophomore Class beauty---who boasts vim and vigger---and eyes that flash!
- Betty McConahy-----center about whom Freshman beauty revolves-----New Castle commuter---organized with blonde hair----and brown eyes-----has a reserved seat in the Grill----where she swings gum----with an accuracy that is deadly.

• Miss Lucille Nevin, Senior Tri member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, and has been active in campus affair, throughout her college career. Hail to the Queen of the Queens.

• Lucille Nevin, Alpha Gamma Delta, Senior; Betty Mc
Ginn, Alpha Gamma Delta, Freshman; Marjorie Dunn, Chi Omega, Sophomore; Grace Bell, Sigma Kappa, Junior.

• Why did we choose this particular method of presenting the Argo Beauties? In the first place we wished to present the young ladies as they really are, not as a professional photographer makes them. Here you will recognize Nevin, McConahy, Dunn, and Bell as you know them on the campus. In the second place in keeping with the tone of our book we wished to make this section as informal and as modern as possible. We think that if you approach the section disinterestedly you will appreciate these people pictured as living animated college girls rather than the pretty puppets they appear in the ordinary beauty section.

A NEW WILMINGTON

LETTER . . .

New Wilmington, Pa.

June 13, 1936.

Dear Fellow-Students:

While you are lying in the shade, too lazy even to read a book, and thinking about a couple of dozen of the Grill's "Cokes," your Editor is sweating under the hot New Wilmington sun grinding out the Winter Edition of the Argo. If you will kindly turn to page three you will have it explained why the Winter Edition could have been delayed until July.

I wonder if you have a very good idea of what New Wilmington is like after we all clear out? It is, unfortunately, a very "lovely" town. The streets are quiet, the business district rests drowsily in the sun, the children play serenely in their respective back yards, and there are professors.

A professor is a curious beastie which hibernates for nine months during the year---for reasons well-known to students--- and who, on or about the tenth of June of each year emerges from his cavern, shakes off the excess fur he has collected, dons an academic gown for commencement, and then swings into the existence of an almost normal human. He reads, plays golf, sometimes eats, mostly sleeps, and on rare occasions has been known to be quite kind to his wife. During this period of the year, too, the professor is a very social sort of a biped, oftentimes spending his daylight hours on the front porch of his home instructing his neighbors how to raise their gardens---if his neighbors have not been forced to leave his vicinity by that time. One or two of the braver souls among our Professoriat have even threatened to leave town at some time during the summer, however it is definitely known that none of them have ever carried out their threats.

To return, New Wilmington is certainly a very, very charming place during the summer. So charming that we were forced to play "jacks" with our landlord's diminutive daughters to keep from suicide. There is a noble game---jacks. It is guaranteed to keep one fascinated for days and weeks. The large problem in the game is to be able to pick up the jacks while the ball is in the air. In attempting this almost impossible task one oftens has recourse to the most peculiar positions. One New Wilmingtonite of our acquaintance ended such an attempt with one arm hung about a lamp post, one foot gently encircling his neck, and bearing proudly in his left hand two insignificant jacks and an infinitesimal red rubber ball. It seems he had knocked his teeth out the time before, had had his appendix, tonsils and adenoids removed, and his Housemaid's Knee cleared up, so he was afraid he wouldn't be able to injure himself. He was intensely gratified to find that he had crushed three fingers, had two compound fractures of the left arm, had thrown his pelvis out of joint, and had dislocated an ear. That, boys and girls, is the way New Wilmingtoners play jacks.

Mr. Brennan, you know, has become a father. We have congratulated him twice by word of mouth and once by letter, so we feel that he is competently congratulated. Simultaneous with the advent of the infant he has been raising a garden. I hope some of you will inform him that a six weeks old baby doesn't like green beans and abhors spinach.

After starting out to make you feel sorry for us, and after describing the Genus Professoriensis, and the ancient and honorable game of jacks, we can yet---wonder of wonders---muster up a mighty "Gezundheit."

yours,

A. Editor

HONORARIES

SPHINX, senior men's honorary fraternity, was founded in 1933. The purpose of the organization is to honor senior men who have achieved outstanding success. Each year Sphinx, in conjunction with Target, sponsors the Inter-fraternity sing. Target was founded in scholarship, activities, and personality. This organization is looking forward to becoming a member of National Mortar Board in 1938. Pi Delta Epsilon was established on campus in 1933 for those upper-class men who have shown outstanding journalistic ability and have furthered the work of Westminster's Freshman Handbook, the Holcad and the Argo. Psi Nu, the women's honorary journalistic fraternity, was founded in 1926 to encourage the progress of our women journalists who have shown promise and fine work in their positions on campus publications' staffs.

- Masquers, honorary dramatics fraternity, was founded in 1924. Its purpose is to honor those people who show exceptional ability in acting, directing, and stage managing. This year the organization presented the play, "Icebound." Delta Nabla, honorary mathematics fraternity, was founded in 1928. Its purpose is to honor those men and women who excel in that field. Each year Delta Nabla presents an award to the freshman holding the highest grade in mathematics. Tau Kappa Alpha, honorary fraternity for outstanding debaters, was established on campus in 1911. This year it accomplished a fine piece of work in sponsoring an all-college Mock National Convention.

INTERFRATERNITY BASKET- BALL

• Harvey Davis, New Wilmington, was the coach of the victorious Non-Fraternity basketball team for the past season.

ALWAYS in the lead scholastically, the Non-Fraternity group reached the heights when they captured the "A" league crown in Inter-Fraternity basketball. With a team composed almost wholly of under-classmen, the Non-Frats defeated the championship Delta Phi Sigma team in the Season's final game. Strengthened by the mid-season acquisition of Jay Pawk, Freshman star, they continued a brilliantly sustained win-streak which reached nine straight games and carried them to victory. Bob Mulholland led the team's scoring with 62 points.

• In second place came the Delts with the Kaps barely keeping an even .500 in third place. Dick Thompson, Delts, was the league's leading scorer with 115 points, Earle Hite, Kaps, was second with 99 markers.

• In the "B" and "C" leagues the Delts continued their mastery, although they were closely pressed in the former circuit by the T.U.O. and Kap teams.

• Harris, Need, Trippe, Pawk, Goodchild, Mulholland, Davis

- Nevin Paden, Smiley, McGeorge Barrett Holland, Brown.

SEVENTY-FIVE girls came out for W.A.A.'s major sport--- Basketball, under the direction and supervision of Marjorie McGeorge. After much hard practice games were scheduled and played off between the classes. Interest was strong, excitement and rivalry was great. The Juniors came out on top---champions, with the Enviabl record of not one game lost. The Seniors were runners-up, having been defeated only by the Juniors. All in all it was a thoroughly enjoyable season.

- A W.A.A. All-Star team was selected by Marjorie McGeorge at the close of the season. The girls were chosen for their all-around play in the inter-class games. Those named were: Jane Holland and Betty Barrett, forwards; Irma Paden, center; Lucille Nevin, Jane Smiley and Clara Brown, guards.

- Miss Marjorie McGeorge New Castle was in charge of Women's basketball for the past season.
